Build a Pipeline of Talent

LinkedIn Recruiter gives you one place to grow, track and stay connected with all of your talent leads, whether they come from LinkedIn or any other source. You can import a single talent lead, multiple resumes or a spreadsheet with a few simple clicks. Leads are automatically connected to their LinkedIn profiles, giving you deeper insights into each individual's most current professional information, shared connections, groups and recommendations.

Add customizable tags to your leads to highlight key attributes, skills or experience to quickly find them in the future. Search for leads by tags, notes, projects, hiring manager reviews, or within team updates, and easily send bulk messages to a group of leads from search results or within a project.

LinkedIn helps keep your entire recruiting team engaged, giving them full visibility into all pipeline activities and the ability to add notes, view and update lead status, and set reminders. And with pipeline reporting, you'll keep tabs on pipeline health and efficiency, monitor lead sources and track lead status to keep up with demand and identify bottlenecks.
