Document Creation Tips and Tricks

Keep the file size under 100mb

Keep the file as small as possible for optimal download experience. You don't want members to undergo a timely process. It could risk abandoning the download.

Minimize the number of PDF layers

PDFs with multiple layer render poorly. For optimal experience, remember to flatten, use durable hyperlinks. Note: Videos and other animations in documents aren't supported and will display as static images instead.

Avoid using CTAs (including URLs) in your Document

Links and CTAs are not active when read within the LinkedIn platform. Once the document is downloaded, links and CTAs will become clickable.

Keep length of document under 10 pages

Documents are read mostly on phone or tablet; so look to keep content short & snappy. Each page of your document is converted to an image on upload, so make sure your document isn't one continuous page. Remember, members don't have search functionality in the posts.

Use images, bullets, and graphics

Members are most likely to read when the design is image forward, scannable and visually appealing

Attention-grabbing cover page

Your document cover (e.g. 1st page) will be the first thing seen, so make sure it's visually appealing.

Document Ads Limitations

Campaign Objectives:

Only available for Brand Awareness, Engagement, and Lead Gen Objectives

CTA's:

No call-to-actions on the document unless using the Lead Gen objective which includes the CTA "Unlock Document"

Reporting:

No reporting on Page Views, View Time, Clicks to open the document, Clicks on the document

API Integrations:

No API integrations are available until after GA

Placement:

Not available for LAN or Sponsored Messaging

Creative:

Hyperlinks are not clickable while viewing a document on platform

Single Page Documents:

Single page documents will not be compatible with the Lead Gen experience since all creatives must have at least one previewable page. As a workaround, add a coverage page to single page documents to gate them behind a Lead Gen Form

Live Preview:

Not available but we will display an option to preview in feed with a QR code

Your checklist for Document Ad success

Here are some things to consider before setting up your Document Ads:

Ensure you have the right Document Ad creatives.

Your documents must have the following:

- Less than 100MB file size
- Below 300 pages or 1MM words.
- Must be PDF, DOC(X) or PPT(X).

Determine your campaign objective.

This will help you decide what type of content to use and if you need to create a Lead Gen Form.

Confirm your document's layout creates a seamless member experience.

Ensure your document is easy to read, avoiding multi-column text and small fonts. Avoid documents over 10 pages and make sure it isn't uploaded as one continuous page.

Confirm who will follow up with leads.

You could get all the leads in the world but if you don't have a sales team following up, they go cold! For a lead generated online, waiting just five minutes will reduce the likelihood of contact by 10x factor*.

Set up a plan to manage your leads.

Are you setting up an integration with your CRM or marketing automation software? Are you going to manually download them?

Decide how you plan to evaluate success.

How will you evaluate the success of your document campaign? What are the key KPI's and metrics your team will use to evaluate performance?

Document Creation Tips and Tricks

Keep the file size under 100mb

Keep the file as small as possible for optimal download experience. You don't want members to undergo a timely process. It could risk abandoning the download.

Minimize the number of PDF layers

PDFs with multiple layer render poorly. For optimal experience, remember to flatten, use durable hyperlinks. Note: Videos and other animations in documents aren't supported and will display as static images instead.

Avoid using CTAs (including URLs) in your Document

Links and CTAs are not active when read within the LinkedIn platform. Once the document is downloaded, links and CTAs will become clickable.

Keep length of document under 10 pages

Documents are read mostly on phone or tablet; so look to keep content short & snappy.

Use images, bullets, and graphics

Members are most likely to read when the design is image forward, scannable and visually appealing

Attention-grabbing cover page

Your document cover (e.g. 1st page) will be the first thing seen, so make sure it's visually appealing.

Keep to 3-4 Enticing Preview Pages

Include helpful stats or a table of contents that leaves the viewer wanting to see more. Personalize content by calling out key audience traits such as industry, function, or topic.

Note: Check out our Best Practices Guide for more tips and tricks

Ensure a positive member experience

Avoid using multiple columns of text and small font sizes. Multicolumn text is harder to read and scan when printed out and small font sizes cause readers to strain their eyes.

- ✓ Check for accessibility-compliant color combinations. Many free tools will check if color combinations have sufficient contrast. Be sure to check those combinations paired with your font size, as some combinations become compliant when the font isn't large enough.
- ✓ Best practice is to embed fonts into the PDF itself and use at least 8pt- font.

To see examples of different text sizes on a LinkedIn post, check out this example here.

How to gate a one-page document

Currently, the Lead Gen Objective is not compatible with one-page documents since it requires at least one page to be previewed in the member's feed. If uploaded, the UI will show an error.

As a workaround, we recommend adding a cover page to your single-page document, so it shows as a two-page document. The coverage page will become the "previewable page" members see in their feed, and they will only see the second page once they complete the Lead Gen Form.
