Pages on LinkedIn.

First Things First: What is a Page?

Pages are where you attract and interact with your target audience because it's often one of the first pages LinkedIn members visit to learn about your company. You can catch the eye of prospective customers by featuring relevant and creative content, such as your beautifully designed eBooks, case studies, and how-to content. By delivering useful and engaging content that solve your prospects' pain points, you'll foster engagement and help your message spread fast.

A Page is also a place to showcase life inside your firm, whether for recruiting purposes or to give prospective customers a sense of what it's like doing business with you. If you treat the page as a dynamic marketing tool (rather than a static "About Us" page), you can establish thought leadership, build brand awareness, and move your audience to take action.

What is a Showcase Page?

Showcase Pages are purpose-built pages designed to promote specific business lines, products, brands or initiatives within your company.

Like many companies, you likely consider many parts of your business to be important. And to give each its due attention, you likely have more than one “voice.” With Showcase Pages, you can build a presence and present a unique voice for every vital part of your business. By creating dedicated pages for your more prominent brands, businesses, and initiatives using Showcase Pages, you can extend your LinkedIn presence.

In other words, you can create a distinct platform for each aspect of your business that has its own message to share with its own target audience. It’s a unique way to directly engage the right people in the right context. And just as with Pages, your administrators will be able to monitor performance through dedicated analytics tools within the Showcase Page experience. (More on Page analytics later.)

What is a Showcase Page?

Showcase Pages are linked to your Page, but allow you to create and share content that appeals to different segments of your audience. For example, the LinkedIn Marketing Solutions Showcase Page has a completely different look and feel than the LinkedIn Page.

To make your Showcase Page more effective:

- Use keywords in page names so they are easy to find via search
- Add a LinkedIn follow button to website pages that correspond to Showcase Pages
- Cross-promote with your Page

What is an Affiliated Page?

An affiliated Page is linked to another Page by the LinkedIn Support team and represents a related or subsidiary company. The Affiliated Companies or Affiliated Schools section on a Company or University Page will reflect all affiliations.

Examples of when an affiliated Page may be necessary include, but aren't limited to when:

- A company wants their affiliations or initiatives to be more visible to their followers.
- A company is acquired, but remains a separate working entity.
- A company is acquired and its products continue to function under the acquired brand.

THE BASICS

By gaining deeper insights into your Page performance, you can:

- Evaluate reach and engagement of your individual posts
- Identify trends over custom date ranges
- Get to know your followers and visitors with demographic charts
- Learn more about your page traffic and activity, such as page views, unique visitors, and career page clicks
- See which content and topics your followers and audiences are engaging with across LinkedIn to inform your content strategy. (You can even refine these insights by job function, industry, and seniority.)

To see Page analytics:

- Go to your Page.
- Click the Manage Page button toward the top of the page to enter admin mode.

Designating administrators can help you manage your Page. Only certain types of administrators can add other admins, post updates, and edit your Page.

There are four types of Page administrators:

- Designated Admin access allows employees to make edits to your Page, add other admins, and post updates.
- Sponsored Content Posters access gives marketers at your company the ability to share content to the homepage feed of LinkedIn members. Learn more about what Page admins can do with Direct Sponsored Content.
- Recruiting Posters access allows recruiters to post company updates on behalf of the company.
- Lead Gen Forms Manager access gives marketers the ability to create, modify, or duplicate Lead Gen Forms as well as download Lead Gen metrics reports. Learn more about Lead Gen Forms.

There are no restrictions by an administrator when choosing which member to add as an admin to a Page.

Invest in your Page

Sponsored Content & Direct Sponsored Content

LinkedIn Sponsored Content allows you to publish relevant content and reach a targeted audience of professionals beyond just your LinkedIn Page followers.

Using Direct Sponsored Content, you can share content directly in the newsfeed, giving you the ability to personalize and test content without having to originate posts on your LinkedIn Page. Make your content more relevant by sending personalized messages to specific audiences. Then test and retest a variety of content in real time to optimize performance.

of Sponsored Content engagement comes from mobile devices. Make sure your website or landing page design is responsive.

Invest in your Page

Invest in your followers

It's important to remember that employees are automatically followers of their company's Page. This is useful because, on average, employees have 10X the connections as their company has followers on LinkedIn. Employees can share your content with their many connections, increasing visibility of your brand.

LinkedIn Dynamic Ads are one great way to attract new followers. Build relationships and grow your company's LinkedIn follower count using unique ad formats and "Follow Company" CTAs.

How to Increase Content Engagement

Posting targeted updates on your Page

Your updates can be targeted, allowing you the ability to tailor content to specific audiences. Updates are targeted based on followers' profile data such as company size, industry, function, seniority, geography, and language preference. You can also reach non-employee followers using these same targeting parameters.

To target an update on your Page to a specific audience:

1. Draft your Page update on the Updates tab of the admin center.
2. Click All Followers at the bottom of the update box.
3. Select Targeted Audience from the dropdown.
4. On the Target audience settings page, select the audience attributes you want to target:
 - Languages
 - Geography
 - Job function
 - University
 - Degree earned
 - Field of study
 - Industry
 - Company size
 - Seniority level
5. After choosing your settings, the targeting tool will automatically show you how many viewers are being targeted on the right side of the page. This Estimated target audience is the number of potential people who will see the update on both their LinkedIn homepage feed and on your Page.
 - If your settings created a narrow audience, remove some targeting criteria to broaden your scope.
6. When you're ready to apply your settings, click Save and create view at the bottom of the page.
7. Click the Post button to share your update.

Insider tip

Using a Showcase Page to have a country/region specific page is not the best usage. The best approach is to target and tailor organic and paid content in the Page central feed.

DEEP DIVE

Taking your page global

Customizing your page to reach a global audience

If you'd like your Page to reach members around the world, here are some options:

- You can add other admins from regional offices and they will send company updates targeted to their region.
- You can display your page's name and description in over 20 languages. Members will be able to see what your page shows in their language. If you haven't added language-specific information, they'll see the default name and description.

How to Increase Content Engagement

What to share

Here are the types of content that are effective to share on your Page:

- eBooks, SlideShares, infographics, and videos
- Blog posts
- Case studies
- Third-party industry articles and reports
- Helpful how-to content
- Vivid visuals (Visual is the new headline!)
- Serial, themed posts (For example, #MondayMotivation and #WednesdayWisdom)

LinkedIn Marketing Solutions Your brand needs personality. It should think, feel, and act with passion and purpose, just like the marketers behind it. #MondayMotivation

▲ When our team goes to conferences, we gather influencer quotes and then repurpose them into blog posts and graphics for #MondayMotivation.

▲ When we launch an eBook, we typically create 4-5 images and videos featuring the eBook cover, stats, quotes, and tips taken from the content.

Videos are 5X more likely to start a conversation on LinkedIn versus any other content format.

How to Increase Content Engagement

Let's get visual

Make your Page visually compelling by adding non-stock, non-dull images to all your updates. We recommend images that are 1200x627 for Sponsored Content and organic updates. You can explore online options for “non-stocky” images, use your own in-house photos, or create graphics on sites like Canva and Pixlr. To add more visual interest, create an eye-catching banner image for the top of your page and rotate it at least every six months.

Experiment with eye-catching stats or text directly embedded in your images, keeping in mind to balance text with the visual.

Think of your header banner image as an extension of your brand — you can use it to highlight different teams in your company, promote upcoming events, or announce seasonal campaigns.

- ▲ We take “stand out” stats from case studies and external research/surveys and showcase them with social tiles as part of larger campaigns.

- ▲ For example, we changed our eader image to support our LinkedIn Matched Audiences launch. As always, make sure the imagery matches your messaging.

Haiku Deck: Killer presos — no designer required. If you haven't discovered this one yet, get ready to breathe a sigh of relief. Imagine a tool that teaches you how to create great presentations, and then actually helps you put that knowledge into practice. Haiku Deck is terrific because, let's be frank, no designer we've met ever jumped at the chance to put together a PowerPoint. For the rest of us who know what we want to say but need help putting it all together, Haiku Deck is an absolute gift.

Piktochart: A designer's library, at your disposal. No matter how well crafted your content, its chance of being consumed depends in large part on how well you present it visually. That's where Piktochart comes in. For infographics, charts, graphs and maps, or banners, it's our tool of choice. Best Practices for Updates

- Keep it short and sweet
- Follow the 4-1-1 rule
- Use tracking links
- Test everything
- Organic is good, but paid is better
- Pin your best content
- Visual is the new headline

Keep your updates short, sweet, and spicy

You only have a few seconds to entice your followers to click on an update. So don't be coy; tell your audience exactly what's in it for them in as few characters as possible (think 150 characters or fewer).

Use those characters to add spice to the update. Ask a thought-provoking question, point out a feature of the content you're linking to, even stir up a little controversy. And make it personal: Call out your audience e.g., "Tech marketers, do you think VR is going to be a thing? Is it already?"

Readers know exactly who should click and what to expect from the content. As long as the content fulfills the promise (and the imagery matches the messaging), they're likely to share it.

Follow the 4-1-1 rule

Most marketers are familiar with the 4-1-1 rule: If you grew up in the 90s, you asked "What's the 4-1-1?" when seeking information.

Okay, actually the 4-1-1 rule says that for every single piece of content you share about yourself (or your organization), share an update from another source, and most importantly share four pieces of content written by others.

This rule helps keep your feed centered on your audience's needs, rather than making it a place for your organization to talk about itself. So for every post you link to from the company blog, share multiple helpful, valuable posts from around the web.

Use tracking links

As I mentioned in the introduction, your Page is a marketing tool in its own right. It comes equipped with analytics tools you can use to measure each post's popularity and level of engagement. But you don't have to stop at analyzing the activity your updates generate on LinkedIn.

Insert a tracking code on the end of your links. That way, you can properly attribute traffic to your site that originates from each update. You may find your Page generates a substantial volume of inbound traffic.

Best Practices for Updates

Test everything

Here at LinkedIn, we take this best practice to heart. We never want our Page to go stagnant, so we're constantly trying new things. Most importantly, we make good use of Page analytics to see what worked. We've tested different times and frequencies of posting. We've run serial, themed posts. We've tried different headlines, post lengths, images, and content mixes. And we continue to change it up.

For more tests and real results from our team, download our mini eBook, Five A/B Testing Ideas from the LinkedIn Marketing Vault.

- Using Direct Sponsored Content, we A/B tested background color:

- We tested a stat versus a quote:

- We also tested the use of "guide" versus "eBook" in our CTA to see which resonated more with our audience:

Best Practices for Updates

Organic is good, but paid is better

It's always great when your audience finds you, but with LinkedIn Sponsored Content, you can choose and reach out to your audience. You can pick the people who will appreciate your content most, and deliver it in a way that compels a click.

Pin your best content

Feature your most valuable content by pinning an update to the top of your Page's Recent Updates section.

Employee activation

Build trust and humanize your brand by sharing your best employee posts. In the "Content Suggestions" tab, you can easily find great articles your employees are writing on LinkedIn.
