

Health & Wellness Observances

Let us promote health & wellness together

Turning observances into marketing opportunities

When it comes to health, prevention is better than cure. Knowledge can save lives. Our calendar will help your brand raise awareness on key Healthcare observances – and connect with consumers at the right moments in the year ahead.

Health and wellness issues are all year round with a few seasonal spikes, so it's important to think ahead to ensure your campaigns are reaching the right audiences with the right messages at the right time.

Adding Healthcare awareness and recognition dates to your marketing calendar provides a perfect opportunity to promote important causes, build good will for your brand and put your products and services in front of targeted audiences.

LinkedIn users are a great fit for purpose-driven messaging around observances. They are:

1.2x

more likely to like receiving health and wellness information from healthcare companies.

1.3x

more likely to look up
health symptoms.

To help you plan ahead, we've compiled a calendar of key dates for your marketing runway.
